

Introduction

Paxium, standing for the Peaceful Alliance eXchange for Universal Integrity and Unity Movement, is not just a token—it is a global call for peace and unity. Paxium is not a meme token, nor a "shitcoin"; it is an issue token addressing one of the world's greatest challenges: conflict and war. Paxium embodies the ideals of unity, harmony, and universal peace, standing as a beacon for a future free from violence and suffering.

The Problem: A Century of War

From 1900 to the present day, the world has been marred by relentless wars and conflicts. The human and economic costs of these wars are staggering, with conflicts spanning continents and affecting billions of lives. Despite advancements in diplomacy and international cooperation, the cycle of violence continues, driven by political ambitions, territorial disputes, and resource competition.

Wars and Conflicts Since 1900

The 20th and 21st centuries have been fraught with conflicts that have reshaped the world, leaving behind a trail of destruction and suffering. Key conflicts include:

- World Wars: World War I (1914-1918) and World War II (1939-1945) resulted in approximately 80 million deaths combined, marking the most devastating global conflicts in history.
- Cold War Conflicts: Proxy wars such as the Korean War, Vietnam War, and the Soviet-Afghan War resulted in millions of casualties, driven by the geopolitical rivalry between superpowers.
- Regional and Civil Wars: From the Yugoslav Wars in the Balkans to the genocide in Rwanda, these conflicts have resulted in mass atrocities and long-term instability.
- Israeli-Palestinian Conflict: Ongoing since 1948, this conflict has seen numerous wars and skirmishes, with thousands of casualties on both sides and a lasting humanitarian crisis in Gaza and the West Bank.
- Kashmir Conflict and Indo-Pak Wars: A territorial dispute between India and Pakistan, the Kashmir conflict has led to multiple wars (1947, 1965, 1971, and 1999) and continued military standoffs, contributing to regional instability.
- Afghanistan Conflicts: From the Soviet invasion (1979-1989) to the U.S.-led War on Terror (2001-2021), Afghanistan has been embroiled in continuous conflict, with millions killed, injured, or displaced.
- Syrian Civil War: Beginning in 2011, this war has claimed over 500,000 lives, displaced millions, and created one of the worst humanitarian crises of the 21st century.
- War in Ukraine: Since 2014 and intensifying in 2022, the conflict between Russia and Ukraine has resulted in thousands of deaths, massive displacement, and significant economic and infrastructure damage.
- Yemen Conflict: Ongoing since 2014, the war in Yemen has led to a severe humanitarian crisis with widespread famine, disease, and over 230,000 deaths.
- Other Significant Conflicts: Numerous other wars and conflicts have occurred across Africa, Asia, and the Middle East, including the Iran-Iraq War, conflicts in Sudan, Somalia, and ongoing tensions on the Korean Peninsula.

Human Casualties and Economic Losses

- Total Human Casualties: Since 1900, it is estimated that over 150 million people have died as a direct result of wars and conflicts. This figure includes military personnel and civilians, with countless more injured, displaced, or suffering from the aftereffects of war.
- Economic Losses: The financial cost of war is equally devastating. It is estimated that global military spending and the economic impact of wars since 1900 amount to over $40 trillion. These resources have been spent on weapons, destruction, and rebuilding efforts rather than on addressing global needs such as poverty, healthcare, and education.

The True Cost of War: Beyond the Numbers

Wars are not just statistics—they represent lives lost, dreams shattered, and futures stolen. Each conflict disrupts societies, tears families apart, and creates long-lasting psychological trauma. The human toll of war extends beyond the battlefield, affecting communities and leaving scars that last for generations.

In addition to the direct casualties, war causes massive displacement of populations, with millions forced to flee their homes as refugees. The social and economic consequences of war are profound, with entire generations growing up in conflict zones, lacking access to education, healthcare, and basic human rights.

A World of Peace: The Vision of Paxium

Imagine a world where the trillions spent on war are redirected towards building schools, hospitals, and sustainable energy sources. Paxium's mission is to rally global support for peace and to incentivize cooperation over conflict. It is not just a financial asset but a statement against war.
